COMMUNICATIONS

CODE: COM 212

TITLE: Introduction to Digital and Emerging Media

DIVISION: Liberal Arts

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course introduces students to the study of new media theory and explores the impact of 21st century developments on the communications landscape. In particular, it will consider how rapid and accelerating developments in digital technologies challenge us to rethink the very nature of communication. Students will define and analyze digital platforms and devices and the profound way they are affecting groups, institutions, businesses, communities, and government communication. Through integrated coursework, students will learn skills to design and create graphics, audio, video, and other content for websites, apps, gaming, and emerging new media technologies.
